He was at [redacted] House Monday night. He was "loaded". He was so drunk he could hardly stand up when [redacted] came home around 8 or 9 p.m.

He was yelling & screaming all over the place - Said he was an American that he had fought for his country was mad because they turned off his utilities. He finally passed out on the couch - Did not make any phone calls while she was there.

He did not say anything about calling Diminick. He had called Diminick about a week or two trying to get some help. He called several other people also Richardson & others trying to get some relocation help somewhere there was work.

He has a depressed skull fracture from being hit on the head with the butt of a gun. He goes into a bar & gets drunk, may be something mentally wrong with him.

On February 28, 1992 Abenicio Emilliano Chavez, Date of Birth January 15, 1956, was interviewed at [redacted] residence, [redacted] Before Senior Resident Agent, [redacted] could explain to b6

Chavez the purpose of the interview, and after the writer identified himself as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mr. Chavez immediately stated, "I guess you want to talk to me about those telephone calls I made the other night to Senator Domenici."

Chavez explained that he had been very drunk that evening and was extremely frustrated, because he could not seem to get any help in getting moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico. Chavez indicated he felt he would have a better chance of getting a job in Albuquerque, New Mexico, but his contact with local welfare agencies had failed to assist him in any way.

Chavez stated he could not remember the exact day, but he believed he made the telephone calls on Monday or Tuesday, February 24th or 25th. When asked why he had threatened to blow Senator Domenici's head off, Chavez replied he did not recall making any threats to the Senator. He said, that he just remembered making the call.

Chavez said he had no grudge against Senator Domenici, but just indicated he was very frustrated and was venting his frustration against the Senator. Chavez stated that he does not even know Senator Domenici, and that he does not own a gun.

Chavez said he would never make a call to anyone again which might be construed as a threat, and in particular would not call Senator Domenici again. Chavez stated that he continues to need public assistance, and hopes that this will not hurt his chances for some type of aid.

Chavez admitted to being arrested for traffic citations, bad checks, rape, possession of a gun and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. He stated that he had previously served approximately four months in 1985, in a prison in Wayside, California on the gun charge.

Contact with Senator Domenici's office in Santa Fe, New Mexico indicated that he has not received any other telephone calls from Chavez since the initial telephone calls.

Per AUSA English's request the above information synopses the investigation to date.

No further investigation is anticipated at this time.
Special Agent [redacted] looks forward to discussing this matter with AUSA English regarding whatever future action is deemed appropriate by the United States Attorney's Office.
